

A village has houses,
land and people.
We put all three to work.

A local host business in San Xoán de Río, Terra de Trives, Ourense: stays in its houses, private events on its land, and multi-year leases of its abandoned parcels to agricultural projects.

THE PROBLEM

Spain has empty villages and abandoned land.

510

residents in San Xoán de Río today, down from 3,000+ in the 1980s

≈61

average age in the village; nearly half of the neighbours are over 65

35.7%

of Galicia's farmland is unused or abandoned, the highest share in Spain

1.7 M

owners of rural land in Galicia, against about 44,000 people who farm it

The Xunta's own answer in this municipality, the Cambela polygon, needs 135 owners to agree on 96 hectares. Ownership is the bottleneck, not the land.

THE INSIGHT

The village isn't short of assets. It's short of a host.

Empty stone houses. Parcels nobody has touched since the 2000s. Cooks, guides and musicians with nobody booking them. A public land polygon waiting for 135 signatures.

So the assets sit idle, and visitors come for a weekend.

THE SOLUTION

One local host puts every resource to work.

Stay

Packages of a week, a month or a season. Our stone house let whole; villagers' houses at a 15% commission.

from €220 per person

Celebrate

Birthdays, retreats and magostos on villagers' land, groves and cellars, with local cooks and musicians.

≈€2,000 per event

Farm

Villagers' abandoned parcels leased for 5 to 25 years to chestnut, organic, cattle and beekeeping projects.

≈€172/ha a year + fees

Every product pays a villager first: 85% of a house rent, 80% of a venue fee, 85% of the land rent. We never own the land.

Packages are per person for experiences; lodging is booked with the owner · leases follow Ley 49/2003 (5 years minimum)

THE PRODUCT

What a project pays for, and what a guest pays for.

- 🔍 Parcels found, heirs abroad located, owners consolidated into one lease
- 📋 Rural lease drafted under Ley 49/2003: 5 to 25 years, rent paid yearly
- 📖 Banco de Terras, Concello and Medio Rural paperwork handled
- 👥 Local crew recruited first; project teams housed in villagers' houses
- 💬 An AI concierge that knows every parcel, route, supplier and price

A PROJECT SET-UP, ONE-OFF

€1,500

+ €600 a year of management, + 15% of the rent.
The owner keeps 85%.

A WEEK FOR A GUEST

€220

Experiences and the host only. The house is ≈€110 a night, booked with the owner. €450 for a month, €900 for a season.

THE LANDSCAPE

The market is validated. The lease-signing layer is missing.

Discovery platforms show rural Spain, colivings host the visit, the public land bank lists parcels. RuralRiver stays for the years in between.

WHY RURALRIVER IS DIFFERENT

- Operational, not informational
We find the heirs, sign the lease, pay the owners and hire the crew.
- Years next to nights
Week-long stays and 25-year leases from the same host: two horizons, one network.
- Revenue after arrival
Set-up, yearly management and 15% of the rent for as long as the project stays.

Aldealista shows the village. Colivings host the visit. The Banco de Terras lists the parcel. RuralRiver signs the lease and hires the village.

Scope assessed from each initiative's public information, September 2026 · marks show what each one offers, not its quality

WORKING PROTOTYPE

The site runs, the map runs. The parcels are examples.

NOT BUILT YET

Payments, owner accounts, signed listings.

RUNNING TODAY

Bilingual site, guided planner, event builder, land map with 10 example parcels and a lease builder, AI concierge (offline mode), live business model.

Built in-house by the team · runs on a laptop without internet except map tiles · figures on every slide are read from /api/model

THE MODEL

Three payers. A villager earns on every one.

Guests

€220–€900 packages, ≈€110 house nights, 15% on villagers' houses

€66,200 · 70% MARGIN

Event clients

≈€2,000 per event; the landowner keeps 80% of the venue fee

€50,000 · 32% MARGIN

Project owners

€1,500 set-up, €600 a year, 15% of the rent; the owner keeps 85%

€23,000 · 83% MARGIN

The guest pays for a week. The project pays for a decade. Both pay a villager before they pay us.

Margins after direct costs, from the live model · owners keep 80–85% of every rent · no council contract in the model

YEAR ONE

BACKUP 1

“Isn't this just rural tourism?”

TOURISM

Days, not years

Sells an escape

Revenue ends when they leave

Village gets a visitor

RURALRIVER

Leases of 5 to 25 years

Sells a village that works

Revenue every year the project stays

Village gets rent and jobs

Stays and events pay the loan in the first year. Land leases are what remain in year five: the owner is still paid, the crew is still hired, and we still manage the lease.

52% of Year 1 revenue comes from villagers' land: events on it and leases of it

“Why €220 and not more?”

OFFER	PRICE	INCLUDES
Rural Valley campus, same village	€350 / month	Housing, meals, gigabit, mentoring; founders only, one year
Anceu Coliving, rural Galicia	€882 / month	Room, coworking, fibre
Group houses, Ourense province	from €15 / person / night	Four walls
RuralRiver · Discover Trives	€220 / week	Guided walk, canyon, winery, dinner, concierge; house booked with the owner
RuralRiver · A season here	€900 / 3 months	Weekly activities, introductions, desk, first look at parcels

We sell the week, the season and the years. The bed is the owner's business, at the owner's price.

“Rural Valley charges €350 in the same village.”

Proof of demand

A village of 510 people is betting public money on attracting 120 entrepreneurs a year. The market is already validated.

It has an exit date

A subsidised one-year cohort for founders only. No land, no events, no housing after.

120 warm leads a year

Guests, event clients, and agri-food founders who need parcels, arriving on someone else's budget.

Rural Valley proves people will come. We are what they do with the village once they are here.

“Where does it go after year one?”

More parcels

We have listed 40 ha in 10 example parcels. The Cambela polygon alone is 96 ha across 135 owners, and the municipality covers 61 km².

More councils

Montederramo and A Teixeira already work with San Xoán de Río against depopulation. A second host covers a second valley; the concierge covers both.

Own licences

A travel-agency licence for bundled offers, and CRAEGA-certified projects on our leases: the same assets, sold with fewer partners in between.

Adding a village costs a host and a phone book of owners, not a building and not an engineering team.

BACKUP 9

What could go wrong

RISK

Selling lodging or transport together with activities at one price makes it a “package holiday”, which needs a travel-agency licence and insolvency cover

Driving paying guests in our own car without a transport licence is a very serious infringement (€4,001–6,000)

Land ownership is scattered: the Cambela polygon needs 135 owners for 96 ha, so one project may need a dozen signatures

Owners fear a 5-year minimum lease

Seasonality and winter at 875 m

Demand is slower than planned

WHAT WE DO ABOUT IT

Our packages contain only tourist services. Guests book and pay lodging directly with the host, and taxis directly with the driver. Anything bundled goes through a licensed partner agency.

Transfers are done by licensed taxis we book; the car is used only for logistics.

We are the local who knows every heir. One lease per project across several owners; unknown owners go through the Banco de Terras. The set-up fee pays for that work.

Ley 49/2003 protects both sides: written contract, yearly rent, the land stays theirs and comes back cleared. We start with parcels already abandoned for a decade.

Winter products (skiing, Entroido, hot springs, fireside stays) and Rural Valley arrivals in spring flatten the curve.

The sliders show the break-even. Pre-sell events and company retreats before fixing dates.

“Why would an owner lease for five years?”

€172/ha

average yearly rent for Galician farmland, on parcels that have earned nothing since the 2000s

85%

of the rent goes to the owner, paid every year; the land stays theirs and comes back cleared

5 years

the legal minimum, renewed by five-year periods unless either side gives a year's notice

The alternative is not a better offer. It is another decade of brambles, a wildfire risk, and heirs who have never seen the plot.

What the prototype does today

Guided planner

Five branches, including agricultural projects: hectares, years, workers, housing, then a priced plan

Land map + lease builder

10 example parcels, 40 ha, municipal boundary from OSM; quotes rent, owner share, fees and jobs

Live business model

Sliders on /business; /api/model feeds this deck, so slides and site never disagree

Example parcels until owners consent · payments and owner accounts not built · runs offline except map tiles

“Where do public funds fit?”

Young farmer aid

€30,000 to €70,000 per new farmer aged 18–40 (Xunta, 2026 call). It goes to the project owner on our parcels; 5,000+ have used it since 2009.

Diversification aid

Subsidised investment for rural businesses (2026 call open). Could co-fund the house refit and the event kit. Funding, not revenue.

Land-recovery tools

Lei 11/2021 created the Banco de Terras, model villages and agroforestry polygons. We use them for unknown owners and work with Agader, not against it.

Grants help projects start. None of the Year 1 figures assume them.
